Viceroy Makes No New Offer

Out To Proceed With His Plans Ignoring Congress Attitude?

(From Our Correspondent)

SO FAR AS CAN BE ASCERTAINED FROM TALKS IN INFORMED QUARTERS, IT APPEARS THERE IS NO NEW OFFER ON THE SUBJECT OF DECLARATION OF POLICY BEYOND WHAT HAS ALREADY BEEN STATED BY THE VICEROY IN RECENT MONTHS AND ALSO BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

ON THE OTHER HAND, BRITISH PRESS CONTINUES TO INSIST ON FRANK RECOGNITION OF INDIA'S RIGHT.

One London paper writes: "The first move must come from Britain. It is too late to achieve anything by promises of dominion status. We ought to grant it. We would repeat a former suggestion that Parliament should, by a resolution, straightway recognise India as Dominion."

Expansion Of Cabinet

As previously anticipated, the only material question which appears to have been raised by Simla interviews is the expansion of Viceroy's cabinet as a war measure for intensifying war effort. Simla talks attached to the demand of "National Government". According to Congress, it should be people's Government commanding the confidence of the country and responsible to it.

According to reports here, Mr. Jinnah's attitude is he is prepared to share power but will not reduce himself to a mere recruiting agent or collector of war funds.

Though the present indications are that the Viceroy's preliminary proposals do not go far enough in the direction of the establishment of National Government at centre, which will not only be representative of people, but command real power on vital questions of policy, it is not quite certain, whether the Viceroy will again resume discussions for finding an agreed plan to reconstitute Central Government after studying the reactions of leaders.

REACTIONARY COUNSELS

IN THE MEANTIME, ONE HEARS REACTIONARY COUNSELS ALSO THAT THE VICEROY SHOULD PROCEED WITH THE EXPANSION OF HIS CABINET WHATEVER MAY BE THE ATTITUDE OF THE CONGRESS.

While there is no fixed agenda for the meeting which has been called at a very short notice, political observers believe that Mahatma Gandhi will convey to the Committee in detail what transpired at his recent interview with His Excellency the Viceroy at Simla, according to informed Congress circles, the recent Viceroy-Gandhi interview has not changed the political situation in any manner. The Committee is however expected to give full consideration to whatever proposals the Viceroy placed before Mahatma Gandhi and issue a statement thereon.

The Committee is expected to devote a major part of its present sitting to the communal question.

MADRAS, July 2. Eight persons were injured in a train derailment which occurred near Singaperumalkoil station, on the South Indian Railway, in the small hours of this morning.

The District Traffic Superintendent, S. I. Railway, wires to the "United Press" as follows:—

"At about 4-50 a. m. on July 2, the engine and the first two coaches of No. 10 TVC Passenger were derailed at the south facing point of Singaperumalkoil station. The cause of derailment is not known.

All Trains Held Up

MADRAS, July 2. Further details regarding the derailment of the engine and first two coaches of Trivandrum Fast Passenger train near Singaperumalkoil station this morning show, the accident occurred while the train was about to enter the station. The driver, it is stated, stopped the train, when he felt the engine was going off the track. Fortunately, the derailed vehicles did not capsize, as otherwise the consequences might have been more serious. Ten persons are reported to have sustained minor injuries, and all of them were attended to by the railway medical staff.

Consequent to the accident, all trains scheduled to arrive in Madras this morning were held up at Chingleput station, till about 9-30 a. m., when a combined train conveying passengers who had travelled by the Indo-Ceylon Express, Trivandrum Express and other long distance trains arrived at the outer signal station on Singaperumalkoil station and were transhipped to Madras.

A departmental inquiry will be held into the cause of the accident shortly.—A. P.

SUBHAS BOSE'S ARREST (See Page 8)

BURGOMASTER DISMISSED

Unfriendly Attitude Towards
German Conquerors

LONDON, July 2.

Reports have been received from Holland showing that the Germans are coming up against the independent spirit of the Dutch in their persistent attempts to win over the population to the German side.

It is learned that the Germans have found it necessary to relieve the burgomaster of The Hague of the office and they have suspended two Dutch newspapers for two weeks. No reason is given for the dismissal of the burgomaster, but the official explanation for the suspension of the newspapers says: "The newspapers systematically maintained unfriendly attitude towards German occupiers and have been unable to cease their one-sided propaganda in favour of their friends."

IMPORTANT GERMAN OBJECTIVES BOMBED

LONDON, July 2. It is officially announced that R.A.F. bombers scored many hits on enemy naval bases at Kiel last night. Other bombers attacked a Hamburg oil refinery, viaduct at Hamm, an important target at Duisberg and a blast furnace at Muldenich. An aerodrome factory at Deichhausen and the adjoining aerodromes were damaged. Aerodromes at Wesell, Cologne and Venlo and the seaplane base at Texel were also effectively attacked. The fleet air arm blew up an ammunition barge in Rotterdam and disorganised river traffic.

From all the operations four British aircraft failed to return.—Reuter.

'APPEASERS' MUST GO

Br. Railwaymen's Warning Against Betrayal By
'Fifth Column'

LONDON, July 2.

The National Union of Railwaymen's Conference at Morecambe unanimously carried a resolution requesting that Cabinet Ministers and other persons in high office, associated with the previous Government's policy of Appeasement should be immediately removed from office.

The resolution pledged continuous resistance to attempts to crush democracy until a just and lasting peace was achieved.

The mover of the resolution, Mr. A. H. Paton (Edinburgh), said that all Hitler's triumphs had been due to political weakness leading to amazing, incredible acts of treason and treachery. What he most feared to-day was not the might of the German Air Force or its mechanised army but our "Fifth Column" men, who were still in positions of power and ought to have been removed at the time the Government was re-constituted. He wanted to see those men in a position when they could not possibly betray this country in the way Marshal Petain had betrayed France.—Reuter.

MRS. INGRAM GETS 10 YEARS

Conspiracy Trial Judgment

LONDON, July 2. Mrs. Ingram was sentenced at Old Bailey to ten years' penal servitude.

She was found guilty of conspiracy to contravene Defence Regulations and doing the act with intent to assist an enemy and not guilty of conspiring to obtain blue prints.

Swift was sentenced to four years' penal servitude for conspiracy; communicating with Mrs. Ingram; inciting a man named Rashleigh to join local Defence Volunteers in order to obtain arms for the protection of enemy invaders and with endeavouring to cause disaffection in the King's services.

The third accused Watts was found not guilty on all counts.

It is stated that Mrs. Ingram since coming to England in 1923 had been in the service of several highly placed naval officers in a domestic capacity. The last one was the commander in the secret section of the Mines Design Department. Swift, the father of nine children, had worked on farms in Canada and in motor factories in the United States.—Reuter.

(The three accused were arrested at Portsmouth on May 31 under Defence Regulations).

Mahatma Offers His Services To Britain

To Fight Nazism Without Arms: Non-Violence, The Only Potent Weapon

NEW DELHI, July 2.

Mahatma Gandhi has issued an appeal "to every Briton wherever he may be, to accept the method of non-violence, instead of the method of war for the adjustment of relations between nations."

He says in the course of a statement that he has informed the Viceroy that his services are at the disposal of His Majesty's Government, should they consider them of any practical use in advancing the object of his appeal.

NEW DELHI, July 2.

Under the caption "To Every Briton", Mahatma Gandhi has made the following appeal:—

"In 1896 I addressed an appeal to every Briton in South Africa on behalf of my countrymen who had gone there as labourers or traders and their assistants. It had its effect.

However important it was from my viewpoint, the cause which I pleaded then was insignificant compared to the cause which prompts this appeal. I appeal to every Briton, wherever he may be now, to accept the method of non-violence instead of that of war for the adjustment of relations between nations and other matters. Your statesmen have declared that this is a war on behalf of democracy. There are many other reasons given in justification. You know them all by heart.

I suggest that at the end of the war, whichever way it ends, there will be no democracy left to represent democracy. This war has descended upon mankind as a curse and a warning.

A CURSE

It is a curse inasmuch as it is brutalising man on a scale hitherto unknown. All distinctions between combatants and non-combatants have been abolished. No one and nothing is to be spared. Lying has been reduced to an art. Britain was to defend small nationalities. One by one, they have vanished at least for the time being.

WRITING ON THE WALL

It is also a warning. It is a warning that if nobody reads the writing on the wall, man will be reduced to the state of the beast, whom he is shaming by his manners. I read the writing when the hostilities broke out. But I had not the courage to say the word. God has given me the courage to say it before it is too late.

Cease Hostilities

I APPEAL FOR CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES. NOT BECAUSE YOU ARE TOO EXHAUSTED TO FIGHT, BUT BECAUSE WAR IS BAD IN ESSENCE.

You want to kill Nazism. You will never kill it by its indifferent adoption. Your soldiers are doing the same work of destruction as the Germans. The only difference is that perhaps yours are not as thorough as the Germans'. If that be so, yours will soon acquire the same thoroughness as they, if not much greater. On no other condition can you win the war. In other words you will have to be more ruthless than the Nazis. No cause, however just, can warrant the indiscriminate slaughter that is going on minute by minute. I suggest that a cause that demands the inhumanities that are being perpetrated to-day can not be called just.

TAKE UP NON-VIOLENT ARMS.

I do not want Britain to be defeated, nor do I want her to be victorious in a trial of brute strength, whether expressed through the muscle or the brain. Your muscular bravery is an established fact. Need your demonstrate that your brain is also as unrivalled in destructive power as your muscle? I hope you do not wish to enter into such an undignified competition with the Nazis. I venture to present you with a (Continued on page 4, col. 4)

Warning To Isolationists

Stimson's Plea For Aid To Britain

WASHINGTON, July 2.

Mr. Stimson whom President Roosevelt has nominated as Secretary for War, testifying before the Senate Military Committee regarding his qualifications to hold the post said that he did not believe that "we shall be safe from invasion, if we sit down and wait for an enemy to come to our shores". He declared also "we are faced with unprecedented peril" and continued "to-day the time which we have for our re-armament is very largely dependent on the continuance of Britain's control of the North Atlantic. Under these conditions, any assistance which we can safely give towards the continuance of that sea power in the North Atlantic is a step very important to our own interest. The situation to-day is much more critical than last autumn (when the arms embargo was repealed) and the time which can be saved by the existence of British sea power is much more precious.

No one wishes to send American troops beyond our borders unless the protection of the United States itself makes such action necessary.

On the other hand, I do not believe that the United States can be safely protected by purely passive or defensive defences. Owing to the increased range of weapons, the United States line of defence now embraces Puerto Rico, Bermuda, Newfoundland and North Eastern Canada "because it is now recognised that if a powerful enemy secured a base at any one of these places, it could launch a devastating air attack on our eastern sea board".

Mr. Stimson added "the line is now critically affected" by the fact that all except Puerto Rico are involved in war.

Mr. Stimson's nomination as Secretary for War was approved by the Committee by fourteen votes to three.

ROME, July 2. W. I. A. A.'s Call To Join Civic Guards Motorised Section

In an appeal issued to all members of the W.I.A.A., Mr. Noor Mahomed Chinoi, President of the Association, says:—

Outlining the plans for an intensified war effort by the Bombay Presidency, His Excellency the Governor announced on June 10th proposal to form a motorised section of the Civic Guards. The details of the organisation have since been worked out by representatives of the W.I.A.A. They are as under: The motorised section will be a part of the Civic Guard organisation and as such all volunteers of the motorised section must enrol in the Civic Guard and will wear the ordinary uniform of the Civic Guard when on duty.

The period of duties for the motorised section will be the same as for the ordinary Civic Guard i.e. not more than two periods of duty in a week, each not exceeding four hours.

In a grave emergency, however, the liability for duty will be unlimited in common with that of the other civic guards.

The duties of the motorised section will generally consist of carrying despatches, carrying officers on inspection duty, patrolling, carrying reinforcements of police or civic guards to places where they may be required and other miscellaneous duties.

The training of the members of the motorised section will be to some extent common with that of the ordinary civic guards, but in addition to some drill and lectures, the members of the motorised section will have to learn the topography of the City, the location of police stations and important buildings, and they will not be put on duty until they have acquired this knowledge.

ARRANGEMENTS WITH INSURANCE CO.'S.
Arrangements are being made to obtain from the insurance companies cover for the activities of volunteers as members of the Civic Guard.

Government have undertaken either to indemnify members of the Civic Guard for any damage done to their cars in the event of riot and civil commotion or to arrange to extend the members' insurance policies to cover riot and civil commotion.

Volunteers will have to drive their own cars, and will be required to pay for their petrol and all incidental expenses.

The application form for enrolment to the ordinary Civic Guard is to be used for enrolment to the motorised section with some alterations. In particular, details of insurance policy, name of insurance company and number of policy, number of licence of the owner-driver, number of car etc. are required to be filled in and members are requested to call at the W.I.A.A. office to fill in the form so that no details may be left over.

American Markets Uneasy Over Balkan Situation

SCATTERED SELLING IN JULY FOR DELIVERY

Trade Buying Distant Months In N. Y. Cotton Market

Bombay, July 2. All American markets were uneasy on Monday over Balkan situation. On the New York Cotton Exchange July option was quiet on scattered selling for delivery while distant months were supported by trade demand.

The New York cotton market was irregular on Monday with dullness in dry-goods market. The Chicago market was very steady despite hedge selling on damage to crop by weather. The weather was favourable for harvesting and increased hedge selling is feared but Government relief buying continues. The Wall Street was easy with less activity in view of the approaching holiday on Thursday.

New York: July 2.
On the New York cotton market October position opened three points down at 9.23. The sentiment is predominantly influenced by European political news and hence operators are wary and cautious and as a result the rate was pegged around the opening level for a considerable length of time. The market was inactive throughout the earlier part of the session.

APPEAL TO RLY. AUTHORITIES

Drop Coal Surcharge

JHARIA, June 30.

"Increase in the surcharge of railway traffic is one of the causes of the advance in prices of coal and this is responsible for demands for higher prices by other industries, such as iron and steel, cement, gas, electricity, and the railways themselves," said Mr. Amritlal Ojha, President of the Indian Colliery Owners Association, in the course of his Presidential address at the quarterly meeting of the Association held here to-day.

The measure, he observed, was a discriminatory one favouring producers of better grade coals at the expense of collieries producing inferior grades. Suggesting the drop of the proposed five per cent increase in coal surcharge by the Government, Mr. Ojha said, "From a perusal of the weekly statements of railway earnings it is believed that the finances of the railways will show a surplus at the end of the current fiscal year with the existing rates. In view of this fact, will the Government modify their policy and drop the proposed five per cent increase in coal surcharge from November 7?"

nobler and a braver way, worthy of the bravest soldier.

I want you to fight Nazis without arms, or if I am to retain the military terminology, with non-violent arms. I would like you to lay down the arms you have as being useless for saving you or humanity.

PASSIVE RESISTANCE

You will invite Herr Hitler and Sgr. Mussolini to take what they want of the countries you call your possessions. Let them take possession of your beautiful island with your many beautiful buildings. You will give all these, but not your souls.

If these gentlemen choose to occupy your homes, you will vacate them. If they do not give you free passage out, you will allow yourself, man, woman and child, to be slaughtered, but you will refuse to owe allegiance to them.

This process or method I have called non-violent Non-co-operation, not without considerable success in its use in India. Your representatives in India may deny my claim. If they do, I shall feel sorry for them. They may tell you that our Non-Co-operation was not wholly non-violent, that it was born of hatred. If they give that testimony I won't deny it. Had it been wholly non-violent, if all the Non-Co-operators had been filled with goodwill towards you, I make bold to say that you, who are India's masters, would have become her pupils and with much greater skill than we have, perfected this matchless weapon and met the Germans and Italian friends' menace with it. Indeed the history of Europe during the past few months would then have been written differently. Europe would have been spared seas of innocent blood, the rape of so many small nations and the orgy of hatred.

This is no appeal made by a man who does not know his business.

I have been practising with scientific precision non-violence and its possibilities for an unbroken period of over fifty years.

I have applied it in every walk of life, domestic, institutional, economic and political. I know of no single case in which it has failed. Where it has seemed sometimes to have failed, I have ascribed it to my imperfections. I claim no perfection for myself. But I do claim to be a passionate seeker after Truth, which is but another name for God. In the course of that search the discovery of non-violence came to me. Its spread is my life's mission. I have no interest in living except for the prosecution of that mission.

I claim to have been a life-long and wholly disinterested friend of the British people. At one time I used to be also a lover of your Empire. I thought that it was doing good to India. When my own patrol ships—has been sunk by enemy action.

India's naval defence can be looked upon in two parts, the defence of her enormous seaboard and the defence of her coasts and harbours.

India's naval defence is only in part provided by India. The defence of those arteries of Empire, the trade routes of the sea, is being carried out incessantly by day and by night by the Royal Navy assisted, as I have told you, by the escort vessels of the Royal Indian Navy. India's coasts and harbours are being watched over ceaselessly by our own ships and men.

BRITAIN RELIES ON NAVY

I would remind you that it is upon the Navy that we are relying now, and to a greater extent than at any time in history, to defeat the most formidable enemy that we have ever had to face.

SHIP-BUILDING INDUSTRY

Having talked to you about the Navy, I would like to mention another subject also vital to India's progress and having a close relation to or naval needs. It is the ship-building industry. At the present moment no such industry exists, although, as everyone knows, in the past India's ship-building industry was world-famous. It is obvious to me and, I think, to a great many other people that the sooner a ship-building industry is started the better for India. Such an industry, to be successful, needs courage, enterprise and forethought. That all these are present in India is a fact that cannot be denied.

THE NEW CHEVROLET

The new Chevrolet models are on view at all Chevrolet dealers' show-rooms throughout the country.

RAIDERS AT WORK

In spite of the success of the navy's efforts, we all know that raiders have been at work in widely separated areas, mines have been laid near New Zealand, there is enemy activity in the Red Sea, and to come nearer home H.M.I.S. "Pathan"—one of the rear suspension, which has high-tension riding comfort.

Front seats are wider, the floor gear shift level has been removed and the door is lower which has added more headroom in front and in the rear.

The new rear door handle mechanism is an improvement important from the safety standpoint.

BOMBAY, WEDNESDAY, JULY 3, 1940

SAFEGUARD PROHIBITION

The vagaries of law are proverbial and they are well exposed by the recent decisions of the Bombay High Court on the Prohibition cases submitted to it. When in July, 1939 the Bombay Government issued their Notification inaugurating prohibition in Bombay City and Suburbs they were doubtless assured by their lawyers that the Notification was quite lawful. But in April last the High Court held that the Notification was ultra vires of the Abkari Act, as it then stood. Immediately, however, Government, being then the chief legislative authority in the Province, passed Act VI of 1940 amending the Abkari Act in order to validate the Notification. Section 7 of the new Act expressly provided: "Any rule, order or notification made or issued under the Abkari Act before the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to have been made or issued under the Abkari Act as amended." It might appear to some from this and the circumstances in which the new Act was passed that the Act was intended to validate the Notification of 1939. But the High Court, in the latest case, holds that the above Section could not have been intended to revive a notification which was a nullity and had been declared ultra vires by the High Court in April last. In the opinion of the Court, all that the Section states was that the notification should be deemed to have been passed under a law different from that which in effect existed on that date. So the Court has decided that "the Notification in question, having been held by the Court to be of no effect, and not having been revived, no one could be convicted under it."

Difficulties Not Insuperable

We shall not discuss here whether the Notification has been validated by the amending Act of 1940, as the particular case involving this issue is still formally sub judice. But we would emphasise the point that Government have power to validate the Notification and that the High Court's contention is only that the Notification was not properly validated. The Court states: "The legislature could not doubt have enacted that notwithstanding the decision of this Court the Notification in question should be treated as being still in force and as having been issued under the original Act as amended. The legislature had not done that. All it had done was to say that the Notification should be deemed to have been issued under the Act."

Golden Opportunity

A Japanese newspaper describes the present as a "golden opportunity". To a certain type of people the situation arising out of the fall of France and the difficulties of Great Britain does appear as a "golden opportunity" and the Japanese are taking it. Their army has already marched down to the borders of Indo-China and it is a matter of days before it adopts "an attitude as strong as iron and rush for its objective," that is, invade Indo-China. The Petain Government will be only too willing not to object. The "conquerors" of France will consider it expedient to oblige Japan who is making gushing advances to them. French Indo-China, it may be taken for granted, will be overrun by Japan, who will thus come to the border of Burma on one side and "angrily near the Phi" Islands on the other. Will be

In other words, assuming that the Court's view is correct, the Act of April 1940 was legally defective and the Court has shown how it could have validated the Notification and how it can even now be amended. It is not right to suggest that if Government pass another amending Act, there will thus be endless litigation and a conflict between the Executive and Judiciary. It may be assumed that liquor interests will do their utmost to keep up litigation. But once a sound Act is passed, which is certainly not an impossibility—frivolous litigation must progressively decline and soon enough come to an end. We have duly noted the difficulties the High Court has pointed out about the complete prohibition of importing liquor over a Customs barrier and possessing it. But these difficulties are not insuperable even if they have not been already got over.

Maintain The Progress

The real question before the Government and the public is whether or not the progress they have so far made in prohibition is worth being maintained. There is no doubt the public will insist on religiously maintaining the progress at any cost. Both Congress and the country regard prohibition as a great reform from every point of view and are justly proud of whatever progress they have so far achieved. They feel that in this one sphere at least they are giving a lead to the world. And in all this there are no serious differences of opinion, apart of course from the vested liquor interests. The people also hope that at least in such matters of social reform Government will studiously respect public opinion, in the interests of all concerned. The most serious difficulties of enforcing prohibition have been safely got over, thanks to the splendid co-operation of the public with Government. If all the good that has been done is now undone, it will be an act of wanton sabotage which the people will not allow. On the other hand the difficulty in Government's way is only technical and one for which the people are not at all responsible. Once again a legal flaw has been pointed out in the Governor's Act of 1940. All that is necessary is for Government to correct their own errors and enact a sound measure. We trust Government will immediately publish a statement assuring the people that they will take all necessary steps to maintain the progress so far made in prohibition, even if they cannot extend it.

the consequences of Japan's impending aggression? Japan has been testing Britain's mood in various ways. The latter's reply so far, is preparations for "eventualities" in Hong-kong and strengthening of the defences of Singapore, Penang and the whole of Malay. But what about the U. S. A.? America knows all about Japan's object, in fact Japan herself has tried to make it very clear and her Navy has just hinted at a challenge to America. But the Americans have shown no signs of noticing these developments, much less of what they propose to do—beyond sending the Fleet back to Hawaii. Perhaps they may define their policy after the Roosevelt-Wilkie meeting. But the most intriguing enigma is Russia. The Soviet fully realise that the "New Order" in East Asia, as envisaged by Japan, is a direct threat to them. But they are as indifferent to Japanese activities as they are to the rapid growth of the inevitable danger to them in Europe from their Axis—friends.

By Mr. Godavaris Misra, M.L.A.

No. 1.—The only course that appears feasible to me is to make all important organisations of the Hindus and the Mahammadans agree to abide by the decisions of a tribunal appointed for the purpose. The tribunal will go into the communal problem and give its verdict which must be treated as binding.

The tribunal may consist of five persons to be chosen not from India but from other countries like China, Egypt, Turkey, Burma, Ceylon. These persons must be of a class known for their forward views in politics and their sympathy for Indian aspirations. As far as practicable, all important religions should be represented in it.

No. 2.—The proposed partition of the country will not be of much use. If it were possible to make watertight compartments and transfer the people according to their religions from one proposed part to the other so as to make the two parts entirely homogeneous, then it could be attempted. But this is not possible. Secondly all concerned will not take this to be a good course. In the third place, India will stand divided and the evil consequences of division will be there. This proposal does not offer a solution of the communal problem. It has no precedence in human history and will be an unusual course. After all the trouble involved, if it does not bring about the desired result,

No. 3.—There can be no objection to holding a convention of the members of the legislatures to draw a scheme of communal settlement. But this will require some conditions precedent. These are:—(1) All important communal organisations will agree to the proposal and give previous undertaking to be bound by the decisions. (2) It must be ascertained that the members are fit to prepare to tackle the problem. (3) Each minority community must give an undertaking to be guided by the decisions in which majority communities must have made their own strength felt.

I do not think that this will be a success. If it is, however, decided to try this method, it will be necessary to dissolve the existing legislatures and hold fresh elections for this particular purpose. Even then there will be a defect. This defect is that the law provides for the creation of the legislatures for a particular purpose and by an agency whose object it is to perpetuate its rule in this country. Can such institutions tackle problems of such importance?

The following questionnaire has been issued by the "Bombay Chronicle" to prominent persons of all parties in the hope that the publication of answers to it may serve as a contribution to the understanding and solution of the communal problem.

(1) What is your constructive suggestion for the immediate solution of the communal problem?

(2) What do you think of the partition proposal made by the Lahore session of the All-India Muslim League? Does the proposal, in your view, offer a solution of the communal problem?

(3) Do you approve of the suggestion immediately to hold a Convention of the members of all the Legislatures to draw up a scheme of communal settlement? If so, would you suggest the dissolution of the existing Legislatures and fresh elections for them? On this page we reproduce some more of the replies that have been received; Others will be published from time to time.

By S. K. Vaidya

I am sincerely glad that the Editor of the "Chronicle" has issued a "short questionnaire" with a view to eliciting opinions and views as a contribution to the understanding and solution of the Communal Problem which has been so much tangled to-day, and I set down my answers here below:—

(a) The best and lasting solution can only be arrived at by an agreement reached at a meeting of the Constituent Assembly as suggested by the Indian National Congress, or failing that at a Conference of elected representatives" (and these latter may even be members of all the Legislatures) of all sections of the Indian People, drawing up a "Charter of Rights" for all sections of religious, cultural or ethnological minorities, to be incorporated in the Constitution of the Future Unitary (United) Federated Free State of India, guaranteeing the fullest freedom for the protection and unfettered development of the religious and cultural life of all sections and sub-sections of the people, whether Hindus (including Sanatanists, Davidians, Harijans etc.), Muslims (Shias, Sunnis, Momlins, Pathans etc.), Sikhs, Indian Christians, Jews, Parsees, Domiciled Anglo-Indians, etc. The Rights and their safeguards to be as demanded by and to the satisfaction of the various sections and finally accepted and agreed to by the whole assembly.

(b) Failing the convention of the Assembly as envisaged in (a) above, the second best procedure would be for the Nationalist Muslims (including both Congress and non-Congress elements) to meet together and draw up their "Charter of Rights" and present the same to the Indian National Congress, the A.I. Muslim League, the Hindu Mahasabha, the Sikh Association, the Harijan Associations, the Indian Christian Associations, etc., for acceptance after consideration.

(c) Failing success by either method, the Nationalist Muslims and the Indian National Congress, should sit together with the determination to arrive an Agreed Formula, and after having performed their task, they should jointly place the Agreed Formula guaranteeing the religious and cultural rights of all the minorities throughout the whole of India, before the Hindu Mahasabha and other non-Muslim religious bodies for adoption with or without modifications. (I am not mentioning the Muslim-League now as this method will have to be followed only in the event of the Muslim-League remaining adamant and unyielding and bent on pursuing its pet scheme of dividing India into Hindu and Muslim India, and no useful purpose will be served by approaching it again in its uncompromising mood.)

(d) In the event of the A.I. Muslim League and the Hindu Mahasabha not agreeing to consider the Agreed Formula mentioned in (c) above, in a proper spirit of brotherliness, it should be presented jointly by the Nationalist-Muslim-cum-Indian-Nationalist-Congress-Conference to the British Government on behalf of the Indian Nation, with a demand for its acceptance and implementation. On the other hand, if agreed to, by the A.I. Muslim League and the Hindu Mahasabha and other bodies, it should be presented in the name of the whole United Indian Nation.

2. The proposal for partition of India does not and cannot offer a solution of the communal problem. The important Sikh and Hindu minorities will continue to exist in the Muslim India and vice versa, Muslim minorities in Hindu India, not to mention the other numerous minorities in both the Indias. The question of exchange of Muslim and Hindu populations is not at all feasible and the further problem of other denominational minorities will be always there. Partition would not improve matters. On the other hand the communal problem is likely to be, nay, it is bound to be, more acute, because of the intensification of the feelings of bitterness between the two major sections of the Indian people, and the lot of the denationalised, 'alien', disfranchised minorities, would be worse than it is to-day. It would be pitiable indeed, giving (Continued on page 9, col. 6)

His Highness the Maharaja Holkar of Indore has offered his six seater plane "Air Speed Envoy" now in London to the British Air Ministry as a War contribution of his Government. The Offer has been communicated to the Crown Representative through the Resident in Central India.

Addressing a public meeting at Coimbatore, His Excellency the Governor of Madras said, "I want to emphasise the fact that the constitutional position of India is of paramount importance." That is what India has been unsuccessfully emphasising all these ten months.

Our Readers' Views

Indian Armed Forces

To The Editor of "The Chronicle".

Sir,—Reference the very useful broadcast by The Director of Military Operations and Intelligence from Army Head Quarters, published in your paper, under heading "Indian Armed Forces". I am sure that India as a whole will be glad to have heard once more of our efforts in India. A few points may need pressing home, that may not be realised by all of us. The Government of India are presumably doing their utmost, and at maximum speed. This speed may have been much accelerated in the past year. However we are up against Enemies who believe in Lightning strokes (Blitzkrieg). Defeated smaller Nations and France had failed to realise this in time, which was the chief cause of their defeat. Hence at the last minute they all had to arm anyone and everyone with shotguns, bows and arrows, etc. I believe the Powers by whom we may be opposed, (Germany, Italy, Russia and Japan), all work considerably faster than the Government of India. In Peace time I know from experience, of myself and others, that it takes six to eight months for anything to reach the Government of India or the Political Department, "through the ordinary official channels." After that the matter is either pigeonholed or handed over to a Committee. I believe if India has Dominion Status and a representative Indian Government of the Nations Leaders, there will be a great speeding up, and the raising of far larger Defence Forces. England has at last speeded up her War efforts, but only after a howl of the British Public in the Press when we had a change of Government in England, and after the collapse of Poland, Finland, etc. As a result "Red Tape" and Official Channels have largely been done away with in England. France has fallen—the War has been in progress for ten months—india's population is still about four hundred millions and we are now raising an extra hundred thousand men and a few Airforce Squadrons for India's Defence Forces! Highly trained troops are of course necessary when circumstances permit. An extra million such troops might now have been ready in India, had our efforts started a year or even six months ago. Do not imagine that all our enemies troops are highly trained or mechanized, because they are not. There is little in common between the Indian young man of 1914 and 1940. There are Millions of Physically fit, efficient and largely educated young men who are longing to join the Army, and who will make good Officers—Pilots—Soldiers and Airmen. If they cannot have six months or a year's training, they may have time to do a few months of training and discipline, and a month's "musketry practice" with a Service Rifle. This will anyway make them fit for "Internal Security Troops", or for use in any fixed positions such as Forts, troops in India, Aden, etc. They will be more useful than no Army at all, or those armed with "Bows and Arrows" to fight the Lightning. Enemy Lightning may come very suddenly, we have had ample warning. The speed we should raise our forces depends on these enemies, and will not wait for the time table of the Government of India. The Primary principle for Government to realize is that our determination to win, cannot rest on Financial considerations and the Budget.—Yours, etc.,

A. R. P. Exercises

To The Editor of "The Chronicle".
Sir,—While the first of the series of A. R. P. Exercises to be held in

Frankly Speaking

An Italian Threat

The Italian High Command have announced that the time is ripe for an attack against the British in Egypt and that "we shall soon be seeing developments". This announcement appears to us rather to be an expression of our uneasy consciousness of what the world has been thinking of Italy's gallant military activities during the present war. The Italians feel that something is required of them by way of an actual fulfilment of so many verbal boasts. The British, we think, are however, not unprepared for "developments"—if Libya's new Commander, Marshal Graziani keeps the promise made by the High Command. Meanwhile, the British, it is interesting to note, have announced their intention of resisting any invasion of Syria even if General Mittelhauser does not. But we do not think the discreet Italians will move.

No Surprise

The report of the Berlin correspondent of a Swiss newspaper is true enough that "Russia's annexation of Bessarabia and Bukovina has caused uneasiness in Berlin." Neither Germany nor Italy like Russia's encroachment into the Balkans in any shape or form. But they have fully reconciled themselves, temporarily, to the Soviet move for obvious this city was reported to be a success, it was not without its shortcomings. The sirens in the Fort area were not at all loud enough, perhaps on account of the heavy traffic, and one could not hear the wailing sound properly despite the fact that every one was eagerly awaiting the signal round about 11-30 a.m. on that day. Will the A. R. P. authorities kindly make a note of this fundamental defect and see that it is removed in their forthcoming exercises by raising the pitch of the sirens?—Yours, etc., reasons of expediency. Moreover, this move did not come to the Germans as a "real surprise" at all. In fact, the latest report by Reuter's Bucharest correspondent of German activities in Bessarabia and Bukovina, prior to the Russian ultimatum, further bears out the existence of an agreement about Rumania between the Axis and Russia.

Amicable Partition

And, as we have pointed out before, it is not the Russians alone who have profited by it. Rumania, in fact, has been partitioned between Russia and the Axis, the latter taking the remainder under their hegemony. The process of the transfer of Rumania to the orbit of the Axis has now been completed by her formal renunciation of the Anglo-French guarantee. And a Rumania with her tremendous resources of cereals and oil is, for the prosecution of the war against Britain, a godsend to Germany and Italy. What these countries need now is an immediate restoration of normal conditions by King Carol. This must not take long, unless complications threatened by Hungary and Bulgaria assume the proportions of war. But since neither Russia nor the Axis Powers desire war in the Balkans, the employment by these Powers of a judicious mixture of persuasion and bullying may bring about an "amicable" settlement between Rumania, Hungary and Bulgaria.

Booklet On A. R. P.

A book of some importance at the moment is by S. K. Ghosh entitled "A Short Treatise on A.R.P. for India." In this book the author gives a graphic description of what an air raid can mean, of the capacity of bombers, how air raids affect you, and of the injury done. Gases and explosives are also well-treated and for a layman there is enough information in it to give him an intelligent grasp on the subject. For example, one reads to some

Crucial Change In Rumanian Foreign Policy

Anglo-French Guarantee Renounced

RUMANIAN TROOPS OPEN FIRE ON WORKERS' DEMONSTRATION: SEVERAL KILLED

BUCHAREST, July 2.

Interest is now centred in a marked and crucial change in Rumanian foreign policy. All reliable evidence available here indicates that the parallel policy which Germany and Russia have so far followed is now at an end.

Henceforth Rumanian policy is expected to move quickly and completely into the German orbit. The first public hint as to what is brewing is given in a secret stereotyped manifesto distributed in the streets of Bucharest.

The manifesto declared that the Russian demands were made at the instigation of the British and Jews who were seeking to bring about a war between Russia and Germany.

The Foreign Minister, M. Argenoranu announced that the Anglo-French guarantee has been renounced within the framework of the "reorientation of Rumanian foreign policy as determined by the new European order in the course of establishment."

It is announced that the Cabinet has unanimously approved of Rumanian renunciation of the Anglo-French guarantee of April 13, 1939.

It is reported in London also that Rumania has renounced the British guarantee of her integrity.

It is pointed out in British diplomatic circles that since the guarantee was a unilateral one, the Rumanian decision does not affect the British Government's freedom to decide for itself whether circumstances calling for implementing the guarantee have or have not arisen.

A communique issued by the Rumanian General Staff states: "At those points where the motorized units of the Soviet forces have overtaken the retreating units, there have been some clashes. These incidents have generally been settled in a satisfactory fashion after consultation between the military commanders of the respective forces."

According to reports from usually well-informed sources Russian warships are of the Rumanian Black Sea ports.

CLASH WITH WORKERS
Reports of a clash between 2,000 workers and Rumanian troops at the Black Sea port of Galatz yesterday are now officially confirmed.

A Ministry of Interior communique states: "A crowd of 2,000 workmen waiting at Galatz under military escort to leave for Bessarabia in the evening of June 30, attempted demonstrations because the train was late and tried to depart. When summoned to stop they opened fire."

There were several dead and injured. A number of arrests were made."

HUNGARO-RUMANIAN CLASHES

Reports of alleged skirmishes on the Hungaro-Rumanian and Bulgaro-Rumanian frontiers are described in authoritative Hungarian circles as fantastic. Denial is also given to reports of "losses incurred in the course of these invented incidents."

According to the Budapest radio, the newspaper "Pester Lloyd", the mouthpiece of the Hungarian Foreign Office, has again defined Hungary's attitude on the Rumanian question.

It says: "The just claims of Hungary like those of Bulgaria, which can no longer be denied, must be settled by peaceful means."

The aim of Hungary, as of the Axis Powers, is complete liquidation of the order established in Europe by the Paris Treaties."

SOVIET OCCUPATION COMPLETED

Red Troops Get Established On Frontiers Of New Rumania

MOSCOW, July 1. Completion of the occupation of Bessarabia and northern Bukovina is announced by the official Soviet agency.

"In northern Bukovina Soviet troops have established themselves on the frontier with Rumania."

In Bessarabia, Soviet troops have accomplished their task. Along the entire length of Pruth and Danube Rivers, they have reached the frontier with Rumania.—Reuter.

RUMANIANS FIRE UPON BULGARIANS

SOPIA, July 2. An incident reported to have occurred on the Bulgaro-Rumanian frontier last night is explained by the Bulgarian semi-official news agency.

It says that an enquiry by Bulgarian military authorities established that having observed something unusual, Bulgarian soldiers manning the frontier post sent up Very light. A few shots were then fired from the Rumanian side to which the Bulgarian frontier guards did not reply.

The night passed off calmly but in the morning the Rumanian soldiers were seen returning to their post proving that they had abandoned it during the night.

The statement adds that on the Bulgarian side nobody crossed the frontier and no shot was fired.—Reuter.

Vice-Admiral Muselier Appointed Commander By De Gaulle

LONDON, July 2.

General de Gaulle announced officially to-night that he has appointed Vice-Admiral Muselier to be the Commander of the free French naval forces. He will also take over the command of the free French air force.

There are already several ships and several air groups under Vice-Admiral Muselier's command.

Vice-Admiral Muselier made a thrilling escape from France. He was at Bordeaux on June 10 in charge of factories working for national defence and when he heard of the pending armistice, he drove all night to Paris.

ARRIVING AT THE CAPITAL ALMOST SIMULTANEOUSLY WITH THE ENTRY OF GERMAN TROOPS, HE MANAGED TO DESTROY SEVERAL SECRET PLANS AND PLANTS IN NATIONAL DEFENCE FACTORIES BEFORE THE GERMANS OCCUPIED THE CITY.

He escaped from Paris using abandoned private cars which he changed over on his way to Marseilles, where he rallied several naval officers and men, manned a warship and sailed for Gibraltar and subsequently flew to Britain.—Reuter.

ITALY LOSES 13 SUBMARINES

R. A. F. Sets Ablaze Oil Refinery And Tank At Augusta

CAIRO, July 2.

British naval and air forces operating in Eastern Mediterranean in the period from June 27 to 30 destroyed four Italian submarines says a Communique.

It is understood unofficially that there were some survivors from the submarines, all of whom were rescued.

The Communique adds 44 survivors were picked up when the Italian destroyer 'Espero' was sunk on June 27.

It is pointed out in London that the losses of Italian submarines to date now total thirteen.

OIL REFINERY SET ABLAZE.

An R. A. F. Communique states: "Formation of bombers raided an oil refinery and oil tank at Augusta. As a result of this low bombing attack, the refinery was set on fire. Four minutes later huge clouds of dark smoke were seen. All our aircraft returned safely."

In Kenya Area our aircraft have been very active doing valuable reconnaissance work for the army.

In Moyale area an attack was made on an enemy lorry convoy. Direct hits were registered and considerable damage must have been effected. Two gun positions were hit.

Yesterday afternoon Mersa-matruh was bombed.

IN SOMALILAND.

A. G. H. Q. Communique states: "In Somaliland our patrols made a successful raid on Buramo."

There is nothing to report on other fronts."

RAID ON GONDAR.

A successful raid was carried out on Gondar in Abyssinia when enemy air force was dispersed and the aerodrome bombed. One enemy bomber was set on fire and five others were seriously damaged. The attack was pressed home despite heavy anti-aircraft fire.

There were no casualties to the R. A. F.—Reuter.

EVACUATION FROM HONGKONG

HONGKONG, July 1.

Supply Of Munition Surplus To Britain Banned

NEW YORK, July 2.

According to the Washington correspondent of the "New York Times" President Roosevelt has signed a bill banning the supply to Great Britain of munitions and stocks belonging to the United States army and navy.

Such stocks can now only be sold or transferred to a foreign Government if the chief of the navy or the army certifies that they are not essential to the United States defence. Since it is not thought that the army and navy chiefs would be willing to take the responsibility of certifying as useless anything in their possession.

People see in the enactment of the bill the last blow to their hopes of obtaining surplus materials. Even Lee-Enfield rifles dating from the Great War which were recently represented as available to the Allies are now being conserved.

The Fire is now making inquiries for United States guns and rifles for use in case of invasion.

British Naval Operations

Big Bag Of Submarines And U-Boats

LONDON, July 2.

The Admiralty announces that the total of British mercantile losses due to enemy action for the week ended midnight June 24 was 88,259 tons.

It is emphasised by authoritative quarters that while the sinking is a good deal heavier than in previous weeks, we have succeeded in taking our toll of U-boats. Our losses in the Mediterranean are not very many, whereas it has already been stated that we have sunk 9 Italian submarines. The main reasons for the increase are the rise in the number of U-boats operating, but this is not to an alarming extent; our arrangements also for escorting vessels were upped, first of all by the French Armistice, and by ships usually engaged on escort duties having to be diverted, in order to evacuate not only our own troops but some of France and Poland and others from French Ports along the coast stretching from Brest to St. Jean-de-Luz.

German U-boats have been operating mainly in the western approaches of the Bay of Biscay, probably from French Ports. The view taken by experts is that the Channel Islands will not be of very great value from strategic point of view to Germany. Operations from the Channel Islands of a naval character will not be easy.

In spite of these heavy losses, it is pointed out by the Admiralty that our actual tonnage position is better at the present time than it was ten months ago. Losses due to enemy action have been more than made good by new construction, captures from the enemy and transfers from other flags.—Reuter.

THREE OF CREW KILLED

British Ship Sunk Off Irish Coast By Torpedo

LONDON, July 2.

The Excalibur reported today that the British freighter "Empire Toucan" had been torpedoed some 500 miles south-west of Ireland.

Britain Speeds Up Air Training Scheme

Member Of Air Council To Create Personnel To Man Increased Production

LONDON, July 2.

In the House of Commons Sir Archibald Sinclair, Air Minister, announced that a number of steps had been taken, which would have the effect of speeding up very considerably the output of pilots and other flying personnel during the next few months.

New Member In Charge

He had also decided that all Departments of the Air Ministry concerned with training should be placed under the direction of a new member of the Air Council to be called Air Member For Training. This officer would be charged not only with the responsibility of ensuring that training organisation was at all times adequate to meet the requirements of the service in keeping pace with the increased flow of production, but would also have special responsibility for all matters concerned with the Empire Training Scheme. The Officer selected for this work was Air Vice-Marshal A. G. R. Garrod.

Mr. Atlee, Lord Privy Seal, said the Prime Minister would make a statement on the war situation as soon as possible but he was not in a position to indicate the likely date. Mr. Churchill was most anxious to give all information at the earliest time, but the House would realise that he must be the judge of when it was in public interest to make a public statement.

The Chancellor of Exchequer stated that up to this morning offers of £6,766,080 had been made to the Government free of interest during the war. Various other offers moreover had been indicated to him.

CONTRABAND CONTROL

Dr. Hugh Dalton Minister for Economic Warfare, announced that events in the last five weeks had changed the methods of waging economic warfare but it would be contrary to national interest to indicate the nature of the changes. Contraband control was being exercised in such a way as to prevent goods reaching the enemy through any French ports. So far as French Colonies were concerned, the decision on this point was being deferred.

PROPAGANDA IN FRANCE

In reply to the suggestion that to counteract enemy propaganda in France aerial distribution throughout that country of appropriate leaflets should be undertaken assuring the French of British sympathy and determination to fight for their freedom, Mr. Harold Nicolson, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Information, said that the suggestion was under consideration but he was not in a position to make a statement on the subject at present.

EVACUATION OF CHILDREN

In the House of Commons initiating discussion on the work of the newly inaugurated Children's Overseas Reception Board, Mr. Shakespeare said:

WOMEN & CHILDREN KILLED: GERMAN PLANES SHOT DOWN

LONDON, July 2.

An Air Ministry communique early this morning states: "A SERIES OF ENEMY AIRCRAFT CROSSED THE SOUTH-WEST COAST SHORTLY BEFORE MIDNIGHT LAST NIGHT. BOMBS HAVE BEEN DROPPED IN THE BRISTOL-CHANNEL AREA. ANTI-AIRCRAFT DEFENCES ARE IN ACTION."

The Bristol-Channel air-raid to-day is reported to have done little damage and caused no casualties.

A Ministry of Home Security communique states: Little material damage was done as a result of bombs dropped in the Bristol-Channel area last night. Four persons were slightly injured.

A subsequent communique states that later reports of a raid on a town on the north-east coast of Scotland yesterday evening show that casualties were 11 dead and 19 injured.

Women & Children Victims Of Nazi Raids

It is now reported that nine were killed and 20 injured in the raid on a north-east Scottish town. It is stated that bombs falling in a street shattered a row of houses.

The Ministry of Home Security announce: "During the raids this evening an enemy plane dropped a high explosive bomb on a town on the north-east coast of Scotland. Three houses were demolished and a number of others damaged. Casualties so far reported are six dead and sixteen injured. With three exceptions all casualties were women and children."

An Air Ministry news bulletin describes how two German bombers were shot down into the sea yesterday by R. A. F. fighters.

Three Spitfire pilots returning from patrolling the north-east coast, sighted a Heinkel 111 bomber flying at a height of more than two miles.

The Spitfires immediately dived and attacked but the Nazi bomber escaped in the clouds. Anti-aircraft gunfire afterwards revealed the bomber's position and the Spitfires attacked in turn.

Subhas Bose Arrested Under Rule 129 Of Defence Of India Act Rules

CALCUTTA, July 2.
Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose, twice-President of the Indian National Congress and Founder-President of the All-India Forward Bloc, has just been arrested at his Calcutta residence in Elgin Road under Rule 129 of the Defence of India Rules.

Rule 129 of the Defence of India Act Rules runs as follows:—

FURTHER POWERS OF ARREST AND DETENTION.

Any police officer not below the rank of Head Constable or any other officer of the Government empowered in this behalf by the general or special order of the Central Government may arrest without warrant any person whom he reasonably suspects of having acted, of acting, or of being about to act with intent to assist any state at war with His Majesty or in a manner prejudicial to the public safety or to the efficient prosecution of the war.

The decision not to change his programme regarding the removal of the Holwell monument in spite of the Chief Minister's appeal, is announced by Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose, in a statement to the press.

Referring to the announcement made by the Chief Minister that the Government would declare its decision within a month Mr. Bose says that the letter of the President of the Bengal Provincial Congress Committee (suspended) in this connection was delivered at the office of the Chief Minister on the 18th July.

"The Government have had plenty of time to consider the question, but have not chosen to take any action so far."

The Chief Minister has not given us any indication as to what definite announcement he will make at the end of this month.

We have bitter experience of the delaying tactics of this Government in connection with our demand for the release of political prisoners.

In the circumstances the Chief Minister's statement is altogether unsatisfactory. If the Government feel inclined to respond to the public demand in this matter they can easily come to decision inside 24 hours and announce it to the public.—A. P.

NATIONAL DEFENCE FORCE FOR U. P.

Congress Volunteer Board To Raise Corps Of 100,000 Men For Internal Defence And Maintenance Of Peace

LUCKNOW, July 2.

The decision to organise a National Defence Force about 100,000 strong in all the villages and towns of U.P. was taken by the Provincial (Congress) Volunteer Board at its last meeting at Dehra Dun during the week-end.

The Defence Force would be imbued with a spirit of service for internal defence and maintenance of peace. The scheme is expected to cost about 25 lakhs of rupees.

The board felt that a re-orientation of policy was needed in the conduct of its affairs, which so far was mainly devoted to the training of volunteers and resolved to pursue with redoubled vigour efforts at organisation of the youth in the country.

The mobilisation of all such people as have faith in Congress leadership, the board felt was essential, and decided to seek co-operation of all such organisations as had belief in the unity of the country and were inspired by a spirit of service for its internal defence and peace.

The successful prosecution of the scheme to mobilise the defence force, according to the board, would depend upon individual Congressmen acting under central guidance and not by setting independent organisations all efforts to organise which should, therefore, be discouraged.

Arrangements are now being made to hold a consultative meeting in Lucknow very shortly. The Provincial Congress Committee is also meeting shortly to accord sanction to the decisions of the board.—A. P.

FUTILITY OF ATTENDING CABINET MEETING

'C. R.' Explains His Attitude

BEZWADA, July 1.

"My reported unwillingness to proceed to Delhi this time, unless my presence was specially needed by the Working Committee is not due to any misunderstanding between me and the Committee on policy, but was due to my feeling that nothing important will come out of the Delhi meeting, and I was naturally reluctant to undertake the strenuous journey," observed Mr. C. Rajagopalachari, ex-Premier, Madras, interviewed by the Associated Press correspondent on his way to Delhi by the Grand Trunk Express.

Mr. Rajagopalachari felt that "The Times" editorial was a sufficient indication of what would happen, and remarked that mere expansion of the Viceroy's Executive Council would satisfy none.

Mr. Rajagopalachari expects to return to Madras on the 6th July.

Independent Press Alone Can Achieve Objective

'PATRIKA' EDITOR ON NOBILITY OF AVOCATION OF JOURNALISM

"Ours is the noblest avocation; our task is to educate public opinion in the right direction. But those who are entrusted with that task must have a clear understanding of their avocation and must be noblemen themselves."

Thus observed Mr. Tushar Kanti Ghosh, Editor of the "Amrit Bazar Patrika" in a talk to City Journalists on Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Journalists' Association of India (Bombay).

Mr. K. A. Chidambaram, on behalf of the Association, welcomed Mr. Tushar Kanti Ghosh and hoped that Mr. Ghosh as the President of the All-India Journalists' Association, Calcutta, would exert himself to bring various journalists' associations under one fold as a live-wire body which could speak on behalf of the journalists of India as a whole.

Mr. Ghosh in the course of his speech expressed his delight to be in the midst of the fellow journalists of Bombay.

Referring to the suggestion of having a united All-India Journalists' Association Mr. Ghosh said it was mooted as far back as 1935, but owing to manifold difficulties, the proposal did not materialise. All the same, he was for the formation of a real country-wide association and suggested the holding of journalists' conferences every year in different parts of India, so that ultimately a united association would come into being.

NEED OF PRESS BEING INDEPENDENT

Speaking on the functions of the Press he said that in order that a newspaper may be able to achieve anything, there should be complete freedom of the Press. However, complete freedom did not mean the right of a newspaper to indulge in vulgar abuse of others, or even to give servile publicity to certain persons. The editor of a paper should be a man of independent views and integrity. He should not allow himself to be terrorised by any member of the public.

He then referred to the present critical situation due to the war, in consequence of which the journalistic profession was faced with a variety of difficulties, apart from the political difficulties. The cost of paper had risen by 200 to 300 per cent. These difficulties were due to the fact that the newspaper industry in India was dependent upon the foreign supply of materials.

He suggested that proprietors of various papers could unite and face the new problems.

Mr. R. K. Prabhu thanked the guest of the evening.

AIR RAID ALARM EXERCISES

Scheduled For Friday July 5 At 1 p. m.: Warning To Public Not To Indulge In Sight-Seeing From Doorways And Roofs

The Government of Bombay intends to continue the series of air raid alarm exercises in the area of Bombay Island and of the Bandra municipal limits. The second exercise will take place at 1 p. m. on Friday, July 5.

This exercise will be an advance on that held last week, in that test reports of damage will be submitted from various areas and the Essential Services and special A. R. P. Services will be called upon to take action. It will be the duty of the police and the Air Raid Warden Organisation to cordon off the damaged areas so that practice repair work can be carried on without interference. To permit of this the exercise will probably last half an hour, as it is essential that the movements of these Services should not be impeded in any way by crowds emerging from shelter.

Its beginning will be indicated by the sounding of the air raid warning signal and its end by the "all clear" signal. The air raid warning signal on the sirens is a warning sound continuing for two minutes. The "all clear" is a blast of the sirens of two minutes duration at a continuous pitch.

Immediately the alarm is sounded, the police force and the Air Raid Warden Organisation will spread the alarm as quickly as possible. They will take action to ensure that the following main principles are observed until the "all clear" is sounded.

(i) Every person who has no duties to perform in connection with Air Raid Precautionary Service or the Essential Services and who is within a building shall remain therein.

(ii) Every person who has no duties to perform in connection with the Air Raid Precautionary Service or the Essential Services and who is in the open shall take shelter.

(iii) Subject to the provisions of Clause (v) below, all vehicular traffic shall pull in to the left hand side of the road and stop. All tram cars shall pull up.

(iv) All animals drawing vehicles shall be unharnessed or unyoked from their vehicles, and shall be tied to the nearest tree, railing, lamp post or other fastening but if no fastening place is available, shall be tied to a spoke of a wheel below the hub of the vehicle from which removed.

(v) Only police vehicles, ambulances, fire engines and lorries, rescue party lorries, and authorized Air Raid Precautionary Staff vehicles, Salvage Corps vehicles, and vehicles controlled by the Essential Services and all vehicles which are the property of the Defence Services shall be permitted to proceed on the roads.

The complete co-operation of the public is essential in making this second exercise a success. The public are requested to get well within buildings and not to indulge in "sight seeing" from doorways, windows, verandahs and roofs. Motorists should remember to shut the doors of cars they have left and before leaving should see that the engine is switched off. Passengers in buses and trams should leave them and take the nearest shelter.

It must be remembered that there will be a complete cessation of movement from 1 p. m. for about half an hour, and allowances must be made for this when making and keeping appointments. It is not intended that train services should be suspended.

All persons are requested to give the widest possible publicity to the exercises. In particular, employers of labour, school masters and all others in contact with large sections of the public are requested to co-operate in making known the regulations to be observed during the exercise. Those who employ A.R.P. workers are requested to free them from their work from 1 p. m. till the "all clear" is sounded.

Children's Aid Society

Encouraging Response From Public: Summary Of Last Year's Report

"The Chembur Home is intended to provide the right conditions not merely for the inmates' physical and mental well-being but also for fitting them socially and vocationally to the kind of surrounding appropriate to the training given them. The rural atmosphere at Chembur and yet its proximity to the city are calculated to suit admirably such a project," says the report of the Children's Aid Society, Bombay, for the year 1939-40.

This is an education, implying more specifically a training, that combines within itself education for a living and education for life. The object towards which the Chembur Home is being directed, its immediate background, the training that is proposed to be given there and the spirit of social justice and sense of responsibility that pervade the entire project call for public recognition and support.

Laundrying, agriculture, carpentry, smithy, hut-building, dairying, poultry farming, honey-making, tailoring, weaving, pottery and shoemaking are some of the crafts taught to the inmates.

GOOD RESPONSE
Response to the Chembur Scheme has throughout been encouraging. Mrs. Bapsee Sabavala organised several functions in aid of the Society's schemes, which brought in Rs. 21,441.

The Progressive Group, in collaboration with Mrs. Sabavala, organised a dinner and a Ball at the Taj Mahal Hotel in aid of the funds of the Chembur Home. Sir Mahammad Yusuf made a gift of thirty acres of land near the Society's land at Chembur.

HOW HELP CAN BE GIVEN

The Society is maintaining about 380 inmates at Chembur, most of whom are orphans. The approximate average cost of the maintenance, and education of each one of them comes to about Rs. 100 per year. The Managing Committee has decided to introduce the system in Chembur Home, whereby a person who pays Rs. 100 per year can become god-father or god-mother to one child for the duration of a year. The donor will select the child.

On account of the resignation of the Congress Ministry Mr. K. M. Munshi ceased to be the Ex-Officio Vice-President of the Society. He, however, accepted the invitation of the Committee to work as the Chairman of the Organising Committee.

FINANCES
The capital expenditure on construction work already completed at Chembur is Rs. 1,93,382.

The total capital outlay on the whole projected expansion of the Society's schemes would be approximately Rs. 3,84,000 towards which the grant from the Government brought in Rs. 2,00,000 and from the Bombay Municipality Rs. 1,00,000.

The estimated expenditure for 1940-41 is Rs. 66,175 for Chembur and Rs. 55,182 for Umarnadi, in all Rs. 1,21,357 while the estimated income for that period is only Rs. 1,10,500. Thus there would be a shortage of near about Rs. 11,000 on recurring expenditure and of about Rs. 35,000 for capital expenditure. The total number of inmates on the 26th March 1940 was 794 and provision has been made for 1,000 in 1940-41. The Society is embarking upon an important undertaking, viz., maintenance of a Home for the Mentally Deficient Children.

The estimated capital outlay for the buildings (Rs. 60,000) and equipment etc., (Rs. 5,000) totalling approximately Rs. 65,000 and the recurring expenditure during 1940-41 of about Rs. 20,000 will have to be provided for.

is not employed on night work (such as these employees) will be available for Civic Guard duty during the night. The 4-hour period of duty is the maximum. Shorter periods will be fixed to suit the convenience of individuals as far as this is possible without interfering with efficiency.

In regard to the training of recruits details will soon be made known. It is probable that recruits will have to put in six or eight training parades before they will be considered fit for duty. Training parades will be fixed at convenient times and will last an hour or one hour and a half. Parades will consist partly of drill and partly of lectures.

The question of providing a uniform is under consideration. It is agreed that a smart uniform will help to popularise the force. An announcement will be made shortly.

MEDICAL EXAM. FOR CIVIC GUARDS

The Bombay Civic Guard Corps which will start functioning from Saturday, will it is learnt hold a medical examination of the selected candidates on Friday either at the Town Hall or the C. J. Hall.

So far more than 600 applications have been considered.

STAY OF BOMBAY INSOLVENCY

Priority Of Date Immaterial

(Before the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Somjee.)

Pyarelal Karamchand and Manilal Karamchand doing business as "Jaidayal Karamchand" Insolvents, Messrs. Sanghavi and Co. and Anr. Creditors.

Sunderling and Anr. Applicants. This was a Notice of Motion under Section 22 of the Presidency-Towns Insolvency Act 1909 for an Order that the adjudication of the insolvents herein should be annulled and that the assets in the hands of the Official Assignee of Bombay be handed over to the District Official Receiver at Amritsar.

On 17th January 1939, an Order of Adjudication was made against the insolvents by the Bombay High Court. Thereafter on 7th February 1939, another Order of Adjudication was passed by the Court at Amritsar against the above two insolvents and one Foolchand who was alleged to be a partner in the said firm of "Jaidayal Karamchand." On 3rd February 1939, the Court at Amritsar refused to stay its proceedings on an application to that effect by the Official Assignee of Bombay under Section 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Counsel for the Applicants pointed out to His Lordship that the head office of the insolvents was at Amritsar, that most of the books of account were at Amritsar and that the total amount of claims proved by 82 creditors in the Court of Amritsar was Rs. 94,920; 39 of these creditors were from Bombay and their total claims only amounted to Rs. 35,902. Counsel for the Applicants further pointed out to the Court that as against that the Official Assignee had only realized Rs. 3,700 in the Bombay Insolvency in which only 16 creditors had filed their claims. The District Official Receiver had realized Rs. 49,475 by sale of the movable and immovable properties of the insolvents at Amritsar and Lahore. Counsel for the Applicants contended that the fact that the Bombay Insolvency was prior in date to the adjudication at Amritsar was immaterial and that the sole criterion under Section 22 was—in which court could the estate be more conveniently distributed?

ORDER.
His Lordship was pleased to order that the insolvency proceedings at Bombay be stayed and that the Official Assignee of Bombay do hand over all the assets in his hands to the District Official Receiver at Amritsar after deducting his commission, expenses, costs, etc. It was further ordered that all the books of account in the possession of the Official Assignee be also handed over to the District Official Receiver at Amritsar.

Mr. J. B. Vinayak instructed by Messrs. Maneksha and Co. appeared for the Applicants.

Mr. M. C. Chagla instructed by Messrs. Maneksha and Co. appeared for the Petitioning Creditors.

'FIRST MOVE MUST COME FROM BRITAIN'

Br. Press On Indian Settlement

The London correspondent of the "Amrit Bazar Patrika" has sent the following telegrams:—

After declaring that in the new phase of the war India may soon be the pivot of Britain's defences and after asserting that the Mahatmas are obvious source of India's man-power but are under the Congress influence, the "New Statesman and Nation" says: "It is clear even to the bureaucracy that India will not throw her weight on the British side unless it is also her side. The Congress is alive to India's military danger and has formally abandoned Mahatma Gandhi's pacifism in the matter of external defence."

Referring to Mr. Amery as being alive to this situation and stating that he has authorised a new approach to the leaders of the two rival organisations the paper declares: "For our own part we think that Lord Linlithgow is far too rigid for these delicate negotiations (with Mahatma Gandhi and Mr. Jinnah) and we would wish that Mr. Amery, who has both personality and imagination would himself fly to India and take charge."

"But the first move must come from Britain. It is too late to achieve anything by promises of Dominion Status. We ought to grant it. We would repeat our former suggestion that Parliament should by a resolution straightway recognise India as a Dominion and accord to some body of India's elected representatives, however they may be chosen, the right to determine its future constitution subject to ratification at Westminster within a year of the end of the war."

"That formula would allow us to negotiate over the necessary transitional arrangements. If we made now this firm declaration, the Indians could be called to the Viceroy's Council and Self-Government might be resumed in the Congress provinces."

"The Congress, however, would be wise to offer some more Ministerial posts to the Muslims. This feud was always largely on the question of jobs and if Mr. Jinnah is still opposed, he would find himself isolated.

ing an excuse to and necessitating the presence of a Foreign Mandatory Power as the Guardian of the Rights of the Minorities. India will then experience a worse kind of slavery and a degradation far lower than the one she is subject to to-day. No self-respecting Indian can contemplate that partition-scheme, without a sense of intense mortifying shame and a proud resentful resolve to prevent its consummation at any cost; yet, even at the terrible cost of internecine civil war, just as the Great American Nation went through the bitter experience to prevent a partition of their adopted New-Homeland and just as Bengal went through a terrible time as the result of its partition in the beginning of this century. That partition scheme is a Sin to be scrupulously avoided, lest it may not become a terrible curse.

3. In my answer to Question (1) above, under (a) I have given such a convention second place after the Constituent-Assembly, proper, which is of course, the best method. However, if it is not possible to convene the larger properly-elected-constituent-assembly, representative of all adults, of all sections of the Indian people, in these difficult times, a convention of the members of all the Legislatures will meet our purpose, inasmuch as such members are, after all, duly elected representatives of the people, though only a small part of the nation. Any day, I would prefer an elected body to a body formed of persons nominated by the Foreign Bureaucracy, as such nominated persons are in the majority of cases, irresponsible and they represent nobody but themselves.

"The Congress, however, would selves. In the very nature of things obtaining under patronage of a Foreign Bureaucracy, they are bound to be mainly, what is euphemistically called colourless and accommodating, but who really deserve to be described, even in the mildest terminology, as "sycophants, jo-hukums and rank-communists", without even the saving grace of the stamp of having been elected. The present elected members of the Legislatures will serve our purpose of holding a convention. Fresh elections in the present condition of tension and war, may not be found to be practicable. Though, if at all feasible, the new elected members will be far more representative of the public opinion and therefore far preferable.

Passive Resistance Move In S. Africa

Indian Leaders' Support

Broom Commission Report Pooh-poohed By Union Govt.

JAWAHARLAL ADVISES "IMPERATIVE ACTION, EVEN IF THEY WERE IN A MINORITY"

BOMBAY, July 2. Mr. S. B. Mehd, who has been deputed by the Nationalist Group of the Transvaal Indian Congress to seek the advice of Indian Political Leaders on the plight of the Indian community in South Africa, has issued the following statement to the "United Press": after seeing Mahatma Gandhi, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Sir Purshottamdas Thakurdas, the Rt. Hon. Mr. V. S. Srinivasa Sastry, Sir K. V. Reddy and others:—

"The 1939 Act has been operating to the detriment and ruination of the Indian community in South Africa. It was against this that the Nationalist Group of the Transvaal Indian Congress decided to offer passive resistance. On the advice of Mahatma Gandhi, it was then suspended.

"THE BACKGROUND"

"The Government appointed subsequently what is called the Broom Commission to investigate the question of penetration by Indians into European areas. Although the Commission's report was more or less favourable to the Indian community, the fact cannot be gainsaid that Indians never gained anything but continued to lose. Government have also enacted laws which go against the report of the Commission.

GANDHIJI'S ADVICE

"That is the background. After coming here I saw Mahatma. He advised to the effect that if those Indians who felt the Act and Laws to be humiliating were prepared to suffer for the cause and if there was complete unity, then they might resist the measures and India's sympathy would express itself.

"RESIST THEM"

"Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru advised me to send a message to Indians in South Africa not to accept any humiliating measure but to resist them, even if they were in a minority. Panditji also said that action was imperative and it could not be avoided.

"Sir Purshottamdas Thakurdas has expressed his deep concern about the situation there while the Hon. Mr. Sastry and Sir Kurnavarkatta Reddy also expressed their sympathy.

"I have sought an appointment with Sir Girja Shankar Bajpai and hope to meet him shortly, when I shall place before him the situation and its details."—United Press.

States' People Condemn Repression

Conference Standing Committee Protests Against Measures Taken Under Pretext Of War

A resolution protesting against the policy of repression which is being followed in most of the Indian States "under the pretext of war conditions" was passed on Monday by the Standing Committee of the All-India States Peoples' Conference which had nearly three hours' deliberations. The Committee observed that such a policy which displayed a "complete ignorance of the significant happenings in India and the world" would prove disastrous.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru presided over the Standing Committee which was attended by eight members from the different States. The Committee called upon the rulers of Indian States to accept without reservation, the modern form of State, i.e., a State fully responsible to the people.

Resolutions

The following were the resolutions passed by the Committee:—

"The Standing Committee desire to draw the attention of the people and the rulers of the States to the vast revolutionary developments that are taking place in the States to the vast revolutionary developments that are taking place in the world and which must inevitably lead to fundamental changes in the political and economic order. The old order is rapidly passing and empires are fading away and giving place to changed conditions. In the new order that will emerge out of the bloodshed and horror of war, it is inconceivable that out of date and feudal political and economic conditions can continue in India or elsewhere.

ADVICE TO RULERS

The Standing Committee advise the rulers of Indian States to accept without reservation the modern form of the State, that is, a State which is conducted by popular and responsible representatives, giving effect to the popular will. Even the ideal of responsible government for the States may soon fall short of the reality in the ever developing world situation.

So far as the people of the States are concerned, they must hold fast to full freedom and a completely responsible government and not accept anything less than this.

During these critical times, the States' people must strengthen and organise themselves to face all the trials that they may have to endure before they reach the cherished goal of freedom within the larger freedom of India.

The Standing Committee considered the allegations made by a section of the States' people of Baroda that some of the officials had interfered in the elections to the Baroda State Assembly. The Standing Committee requested the Baroda Durbar to appoint an impartial tribunal to investigate the matter.

NEXT MEETING AT POONA

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the Committee at Poona during the A.I.C.C. session.

The following ceased to be members of the Standing Committee due to non-attendance at three consecutive meetings:—Mr. Krishna Sharma (Hyderabad), Mr. Harish Singh (Patiala), Lala Shankerlal (Punjab), Satyanarayan Saraf (Bikaner).

The following were elected members in their place:—Mr. Kashnathrao Valdia (Hyderabad), Rajkumari Amrit Kaur (Kapurthala), Mr. Haribhau Upadhyaya (Rajputana), Mr. Gopikrishna Vijaya Vargiya (Gwalior).

Mr. G. Ramchandran from Travancore and Mian Iftikhar Uddin from the Punjab were co-opted on the Committee.

The Half-Column "By Dim"

That General de Gaulle has accomplished something worth while is to be seen from his rallying to Britain of portions of the French Fleet and the Air Force.

Therefore, there is still some heart in the French soldier.

Says Rumania, that Russian demands were made at the instigation of the British and the Jews. You wouldn't think a Jew could put ideas into Stalin's head.

Among the sensations of the week is the arrest of Subhas Bose. It is difficult to comment on it without full particulars of the whole case.

Headline in local paper—Rumania under Nazi Heel. More appropriately could it be said: "Rumania—a Nazi heel".

The Governor of the Madras believes that if Hitler won the war he would take India as his first and greatest prize. It is difficult to believe that the war in Europe is fought for India! Surely one can exaggerate a little too much.

The British Government have decided to buy Egypt's entire cotton crop. Why not the cotton from India?

What I like about the R.A.F. is that when they bomb, they bomb strong. As the B. B. C. Commentator beautifully said: "The R.A.F. is giving Germany a good deal of scrap iron, which it (Germany) does not want."

There seems to be a series of requests from British newspapers to the effect that Mr. Amery should visit India. Only Mr. Amery is deaf to them.

MANUFACTURE OF LOCOMOTIVES

(From Our Correspondent).

SIMLA, July 2. It is likely that the scheme for manufacture of locomotives in India may have to be temporarily suspended.

The reason appears to be twofold—firstly the imperative need for using country's resources both in men and equipment for speeding up the manufacture of munitions to the maximum capacity for war effort and secondly, difficulty in getting the necessary machinery from abroad for installing in a locomotive factory.

Railway Standing Finance Committee

SIMLA, July 2.

The Standing Finance Committee for railways concluded its session to-day.

At an earlier meeting, the Committee had been furnished with copies of a report by two Railway Board officers regarding the construction of locomotives in India in State Railway workshops. These officers had recommended that the existing locomotive workshops at Kanchrapara on the Eastern Bengal Railway should be released for conversion into locomotive manufacturing shops.

The Committee considered other proposals placed before them by the Railway Board. The most important of these related to the construction of an additional line between Ondal and Khana stations of the East Indian Railway. The first stage of this scheme which is expected to cost about Rs. 19,00,000 was agreed to by the Committee. The rolling stock programme of the railways for 1941-42 is estimated at Rs. 303,24,000, out of which Rs. 88,32,000 are expected to be spent on Capital account and the balance from the Depreciation Reserve Fund.—A.
